

ABZOL Lubricants
Sales Executive
Sylhet

Dear Director,

I am currently seeking a job opportunity in the area of social media marketing, Customer service or Team management, Customer Convincing and I am writing in response to your Internet advertisement for Sales Executive. I feel that your description of the vacancy of Sales Executive matches my experience and interests and at the same time it also meets my vision of my future employment. As you can see from the enclosed CV, I have done my Intermediate and am currently studying BSc in National University, specialising in mathematics. My work experience includes Digital marketing, Telemarketing, Customer care, Sales, IT, Customer Convincing and more.

I hope that my education along with my work experience as well as communication, conflict resolution and language skills make me a suitable candidate for the position of Sales Executive. I would be happy to demonstrate my determination, abilities and motivation to work in a position with scope and responsibility. I would make every effort to prove to be a significant contribution to the municipality and the whole local community.

I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss my curriculum vitae with you in person and I am ready to submit references of my previous employer on request.

Yours sincerely,

Sayed Gulam Rijbi Rahed
