Dear Hiring Manager,

I was very excited to see your posting for the Civil Engineer position at Thousand Careers. I have been working in the engineering field for several years, and during that time I have been working with clients, contractors, architects, local authorities and external agencies on various renovation and new build projects. I have been performing regular site visits, inspections, surveys and general construction duties on sites. I am particularly detail oriented, and I have always been praised for my ability to foresee potential problems and make proactive plans.

I am highly interested in being a Staff India employee for many reasons. First of all, the reputation of the firm and its core values are essential to begin a great career as a civil engineer; strong relationships between partners and clients based on trust and respect, delivering quality work and growing as a professional with Staff India and for-profit client's business. This role is an amazing opportunity to be a multiskilled professional involved in major projects of large-scale systems value to clients

I also feel I possess the necessary personal and professional qualities to meet the demands of the job. I am highly motivated in this particular area of business for the changing future; sustainable water management and water strategies. And I consider myself well equipped to respond to the challenge offered by the post, developing both technical and project management skills, being a team worker, and playing an important role with the Staff India ' growth.

I would be able to start work immediately and I am available for interview at any time which might be convenient to you. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,

Shuvrangsuh Ghoss
