Dear Sir,

I have been researching your organization with great interest and would be very keen to learn of any opportunities for employment with you. I believe my skills and experience could be a great match with your organization's initiatives and culture.

I'm writing in response to your advertisement 'Internship Opportunity at STAFF INDIA' published on Thousand Careers. I am very interested in this opportunity and believe that my qualifications, education and experience would make me a strong and ideal candidate.

My dream is to be a professional android developer. I am a fresher, so I want to acquire my professional experience by working with you.

Enclosed is my resume that more fully details my background and performance. As you can see,

- I have worked with android sdk and developed some applications.
- Really good at C , Java, Html, CSS, xml.
- Fluent in English and Bangla.

I firmly believe that I can be a valuable asset to your team. This internship would provide me with the ideal opportunity to assist your organization and to expand my development skills. If you agree that my qualifications seem to be a match for the position,I would like to welcome the opportunity to speak with you at a mutually convenient time about this position.

Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Kind regards,
